DISCOVERY DAY.

New York En Fete in Honor of the Landing of Christopher Columbus in America.

Gotham Gay With Myriads of Banners—Special Music, Speeches and Fireworks.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The metropolis of the republic inaugurates to-day the festivities incident to the commemoration of the landing of the intrepid Italian explorer upon the shores of the new land; a festive season that in one form or another will continue until the close of the Columbian exposition a year hence. On Saturday and yesterday in the Hebrew and Christian houses of prayer, and in the Sabbath schools, thanks and expressions of gratitude were offered to the Almighty for directing Columbus and his crew toward this continent, and for the great, happy and prosperous nation that he has caused to be built up. The religious sentiment of the nation having thus been expressed, Gotham inaugurates to-day a carnival, the like of which has never before been seen within her borders, a carnival that will not suffer in comparison with those of Venice in the olden time, a carnival in which the nation, state, the municipality will all unite together to the honor of the memory of Dolumbus and of "Discovery Day."

Fittingly enough the opening day is given up to the rising generation, to the boys and girls who will be the men and women, the controllers of the nation, in the near by and bye. It is school day, and right well the little ones know it, for hundreds and thousands of them were up and about almost as soon as the booming of the big guns at the battery announced the dawn of day. The weather was fine, and a slight breeze was just sufficient to gently stir the flags and banners and streamers, and draperies that combined to make up the exterior decorations of the city, decorations that were on a more elaborate scale than ever before in New York's history. Soon after breakfast the little ones commenced to pour out upon the thoroughfares. Washington square was the objective point for the boys, and into it they poured through every adjacent thoroughfare. By 10 o'clock the big square was literally black with little ones, and some big ones as well, for it was college day as well as school day. Columbia College turned out with a thousand students, and the same number came from the college of the City of New York as well as from the New York University. Besides these the most prominent of the private educational institutions turned out their scholars in force. Among them were the following: Columbia Grammar School, Berkeley School Corps, Barnard School, Cutler School, West End School, Weingart Institute, Rugby Academy, New York University of Law, Bryant and Stratton College, Metropolis Law School, Hebrew Orphan Asylum Schools, Military School of Bordentown, New York, Montclair Military Academy, Boys' Brigade of First Presbyterian Church and the young Dalton Volunteers. For a time it looked as though it would be impossible to get order out of chaos, but most of the boys had been going through a course of drilling tactics for weeks, and in some cases for months, and when the signals were given they took their places and formed into line like veterans. Col. David S. Brown was general marshall of the parade, with John Winfield Scott as adjutant and chief of staff, and Gen. James R. O'Brien as marshal of the parochial schools. It was close upon noon when the word was given and the head of the column moved. Behind the marshal and his escort came the pupils of the public schools, ten thousand strong, in twenty divisions. Next in line were the college boys, three thousand of them. Six thousand little ones turned out from the parochial schools of New York and four thousand more from those of Brooklyn. The rear of the parade was brought up by the scholars of the numerous private schools and of many Sunday Schools. Every boy in line carried an American flag, and waved it with enthusiasm, and what with the cheering and the music of some thirty bands it was something of an exhilarating spectacle. Up Broadway to Fiftieth street the little ones marched like soldiers going to a battle. The sidewalks, balconies, windows and roofs were packed, and the youngsters were given a reception in every block that would have swelled the head of a monarch. When Fiftieth street was reached the column counter marched and proceeded back to town. A very pretty scene was witnessed at Reservoir Square where the boys were greeted by sixteen hundred girls from the public schools. One third of them were attired in white, another third in red, and a third in blue, making one immense and picturesque American flag. When the head of the column came to view the maids began to sing the Star Spangled Banner, and they kept it up despite hoarseness and sore throats and flushed faces until the tail end of the last division had passed. Down Fifth avenue marched the boys, and thence via Seventeenth street into Union Square. Here, ranged upon a platform, were some sixteen hundred young girls from the Catholic schools. They also were picturesquely attired in red, white and blue, and they might just as well have been with the rest of the little ones up town had it not been for the objections of the ecclesiastics, who demanded a separate station and objected to their mixing with the Protestant children. The Union Square contingent sang Columbia and America, and the boys passed on around the square, through Fourteenth street into Fifth avenue and thence back again into Washington Square. There they were dismissed, and with shouts and cheers and waving of flags the ranks were broken and the little ones started in a thousand directions for their homes.

Music and orations at Carnegie Hall and fireworks ad libitum on Brooklyn bridge. This is the programme for the evening: The music, which will be a new allegory in six parts by Silas G. Pratt, the noted musician, is entitled the "Triumph of Columbus," and was written especially for the quadro-centennial anniversary of the discovery of America by Columbus. The scenario is as follows: Part I.—Columbus' dream; spirits of evil threaten; sirens taunt; spirit of light disperses them and encourages Columbus to renew his faith. Part II.—The council at Salamanca; the argument; the attack; the defense. Part III.—Columbus and his son, Diego; in want at La Rabida; the prayer; the succor by Father Juan Perez. Part IV.—Isabella and her court; the dance; the song; the appeal of Father Perez; favorable decision; Talavera's opposition; plan spurned; Luis St. Angel's final appeal; the grand and final conception of the Queen; prayer for Columbus' success. Part V.—The voyage; flight of birds; sailor's song; Siren's despair; Columbus' song of triumph; the mutiny; sunset vespers; the signal gun; land ho; sailors jubilant; prayer of thanksgiving; "Gloria in Excelsis Deo." The cantata will be interpreted by twenty vocalists of note, assisted by a choral union of five hundred voices; a boys' choir of thirty voices and an orchestra of eighty pieces. After the audience is well satiated with music Chauncey M. Depew will deliver the Columbian oration. At ten o'clock Brooklyn bridge will be illuminated and pyrotechnic spectacle will send up its preliminary flight of rockets. The pyrotechnic spectacle will last for several hours.

The case will wear a different aspect when brought before the magistrate to-day.

Quite a number of cases were disposed of in the County Court on Saturday by Judge Harrison. Mr. C. H. B. Potts had 13 cases in court and lost them all. Judge Harrison gave him a severe lecture on some of them, and also for the disrespectful manner in which Potts addressed his lordship at times.

When a short distance off the land the boat capsized, throwing out all four into the lake. One, William Williams, succeeded in reaching the shore, but the other three, Benjamin Anderson, Felix Stevens and William Stevenson, clung to the upturned boat for some time, but were all washed off and drowned. A steamer has been sent out from here to make an effort to recover the bodies.

SKIPPER OF THE BELLE.

Captain Copp, of the Vancouver Belle, Speaks About the Rosie Olsen.

Captain Copp, of Vancouver, late master of the seized sealing schooner Vancouver Belle, who brought the seized schooner Rosie Olsen across, is in the city. He was seen this morning, but had little to say. He is down on private business and also to confer with the sealers here in regard to what action has been taken, and what further is necessary, toward placing the facts of the seizures before the Government. In regard to the Rosie Olsen, Captain Copp was made to appear in a false light.

While his action may have indicated such he never sought to claim title to the Rosie Olsen. That he is entitled to some compensation or salvage as the case may be, is the question. The matter, too, was placed before the Government to make a beginning, and it brought out one meterial point. That is that the Government does not in any way recognize the right for the Russians to make the seizures.

The captain says that DeLevron, master of the Zabaka, handled in the right way and not ruffled, is not half a bad fellow.

SNAKE-INSPIRING RYE.

An Erring Citizen Mistakes a Queue for a Wriggling Reptile.

"I've got him. The ugly brute, the brute. Whoo! how he bites!"

These disjointed sentences were shouted in a shrill voice by an individual on Yates street Sunday afternoon. The aforesaid individual had in his right hand the queue of a well-dressed Celestial and was twisting the pigtail of the Chinaman around in a violent manner. The Chinaman stood shivering like a rat. He shouted for help and made several ineffectual efforts to liberate himself. But the more the Celestial squirmed the more the frantic individual pulled and shouted. Sergt. Walker was standing at the Deluge fire hall and made a sprinter's pace to the relief of the Celestial.

"What's the matter?"

"Snakes! snakes!" yelled the queue-twister, who was screaming louder than ever. The whole situation was at once "taken in." The agitated man had imbibed too freely of bad whiskey and had the "snakes" very badly and mistook the queue of the Chinaman for a boa constrictor or a python. Sergt. Walker took the man in charge. He gave his name as Richards. His friends came for him later in the day.

CANADIAN NOTES.

News by Mail and Wire From All Parts of the Dominion.

John Nichol, M. D., a prominent citizen of Listowel, is dead, aged 76.

Mercier expects his trial with Ernest Pacaud will take place this week in the Court of Queen's Bench at Quebec. A charge of conspiracy has been laid against them.

John Y. Rice, an old and highly respected resident of Bowmanville, a member of the high school board, and an extensive property holder, shot himself with a revolver on Saturday morning. He has been suffering from brain trouble, which caused depression of spirits.

The Calgary school trustees are again in hot water. This time it is a revolt of the lady teachers against the first assistant, who was recently appointed. The ladies threaten to resign in a body if the first assistant's conduct towards them does not change at once and radically. An investigation will be held.

It is announced that Hon. L. O. Taillon will succeed Judge Cross, who has retired from the Quebec Court of Queen's Bench. The news has created much surprise, it having been expected that an English speaking judge would have been chosen. There is only one Protestant, an Englishman, on the bench.

There are at present three vacancies for representatives in the Commons: Kent, N. B., made vacant through the death of Leger; St. John city and county, N. B., which has become vacant by Skinner accepting a judgeship; and Hochelaga in Quebec, which is made vacant by the appointment of Desjardins to the Senate. There are seven vacancies in the Senate.

The Toronto Globe's St. John, N. B., correspondent says: "There seems no possibility at present of the St. John Liberals joining en masse to support Premier Blair. An effort was partly made to call a Liberal convention but the complexion of some of Mr. Blair's candidates did not suit. It now looks as if the Liberals here would vote on the 'go-as-you-please' plan. The Conservatives are in about the same box."

The Grand Trunk Railway is going extensively into the acquisition of smaller branch lines. At the half-yearly meeting in London, on October 31st, the shareholders will be asked to sanction the taking over of the following lines: Jacques Cartier, Montreal and Champlain Junction; Midland; Peterborough & Chemong Lake; Lake Simcoe Junction; Grand Trunk, Georgian Bay & Lake Erie; London, Huron & Bruce; Galt & Guelph; Brantford, Norfolk & Port Burwell; Wellington, Grey & Bruce; North Simcoe, and the Cobourg, Blairton & Marmora Railways.

Fatal Imitation.

BINGHAMTON, N.Y., Oct. 10.—Since the Wild West show was here all the boys in the village have been seized with a desire to imitate the feats of daring they either saw or heard of. Mac Waterous, 13 years old, was sent to drive a cow to pasture and thought he would try his skill with the lasso. He tied one end of the rope around his body, made a noose at the other end and succeeded in throwing the loop over a cow's horns. The cow took fright and ran away, dragging the helpless lad 300 feet. When the cow was finally caught and young Waterous picked up, he was found to be shockingly mangled, and lived only a short time.

No Rocks in San Diego Bay.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Prof. Davidson, of the coast and geoditic survey, says that the cruser Charleston did not strike on a rock at Ballast Point, in San Diego Bay, as reported. The Charleston, according to the professor's theory, turned too sharply around the point and was simply washed by the tide over against the boulders, which her side and keel scraped. "The report of rocks in the harbor might injure the reputation of the bay," said the professor, "and as no rocks can be found there, it is manifestly an error."

Suit About a Man's Kidneys.

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 10.—Attorney-General J. C. Black expects to begin to-morrow a replevin suit to regain possession of a wealthy Dayton man's kidneys. It is claimed by Mr. Black that two years ago a well-known surgeon of this city removed a kidney for his client, but it was the sound kidney and not the diseased one. The removed kidney is wanted as evidence in a damage suit. The surgeon admits he still has the organ but refuses to surrender it.

Giving Away Milan's Secrets.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—The memoirs of Queen Natalie, about to be published in Paris, are expected to surpass the most strenuous efforts of the French realists. They will depict the worst side of Milan's life while he was still a king. Several chapters will be devoted to Milan's relations to comic opera companies, which he was wont in the last days of his reign to charter and entertain in the royal palace with an unbroken series of debauches.

Would Not Allow a Boycott.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—Judge Sanderson to-day denied the motion of the counsel of the Federated Trades to dissolve the injunction prayed for against them by the National Brewing Company and the Jackson Brewing Company. Seventh Day Adventists.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 10.—The schooner Pitcairn, fitted out by the Seventh Day Adventists, returned to port to-day after a three years' voyage in the South Seas, distributing literature and holding mission services. Captain J. M. Marsh died during the voyage at Auckland, N.Z.

Phœnix Lager Beer.

The Weimer Golden Wedding.

BERLIN, Oct. 8.—The Grand Duke Carl Alexander and the Duchess of Saxe Weimer began the celebration of their golden wedding on October 5, rather curiously the same day on which the humble citizens of Pilsen began celebrating the golden anniversary of the birth of their famous beer in Austria. Some hundred princes, princesses and grand dukes, besides Emperor William, the little Queen of Holland, the Queen Regent and the King of Saxony, are participating in the festivities to-day. The Emperor came back from his shooting box to attend the celebration. This fact gives the lie to the reports that the Emperor and Grand Duke had quarrelled, because the latter refused, in obedience to a hint from Berlin, to suppress the Bismarck demonstration in Weimer and Jena. The Grand Duke has long been the most popular petty sovereign in Germany. He is everybody's friend, as the patron of arts and literature, and has acquired an enviable reputation among the best educated classes of the empire. In the last three days the Shakespeare, Goethe and Schiller Societies have shown their gratitude for his encouragement by sending delegations from all parts of the empire to swell the demonstration in Weimer.

Wild Cat Benefit Societies.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—An assignment was made to-day for the benefit of its creditors by the order of the Vesta, an organization which differed from the Iron Hall only in the moderation of its promises of profit. Officers of the order say there is $135,000 remaining in the assessment fund, which would be sufficient to pay the costs and fees incident to assignment, and to enable the assignees to pay back to each member in good standing 15 per cent. more than he has paid in. The membership is placed at about 1000, scattered through forty subordinate lodges in nine different states. The bulk of the membership is said to be in Richmond, Baltimore, Philadelphia and Poughkeepsie.

A Family Failing.

TROY, N.Y., Oct. 10.—The second daughter of Patrick Shea, a hard working man, has just been obliged to quit work in a collar factory because her eyes failed. By the Whiskey Route.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 10. — Nathaniel Brown, a negro, having drunk off a quart of whiskey on a wager, offered to drink another if Jacob Johnson, also colored, would pay for it. Johnson paid for the whiskey and the coroner gave a certificate that Brown died of alcoholism.

Meal Time.

Chambers' Journal.]

It is believed by some that it (the word dinner) springs from a corruption of the word dixheures, indicating the time at which, in the old Norman days, this meal was taken. The mere idea of having dinner at the barbarous hour of 10 o'clock in the morning would, in all probability, send a modern chef into a fit, yet it was at this early time that persons of quality, both in this country and France, partook of the meal. Froissart mentions waiting upon the Duke of Lancaster at five in the afternoon, after he had supped, and during the reigns of Francis I. and Louis XII. of France, fashionable people dined from 10:30 and supped at the latest at six in the evening. And again, from a Northumberland Household Book, bearing date 1512, we learn that the family rose at six, breakfasted at seven, dined at ten supped at four, and shut the gates at 9 p.m.

Speaking generally, though the dinner hour then, as now, was later in this country than in France, Louis XIV. did not dine till twelve, while his contemporaries, Cromwell and Charles II., took the meal at one. In 1700 the hour was advanced to two, and in 1751 we find that the Duchess of Somerset's dinner time was three. In 1760 Cooper speaks of four o'clock as the then fashionable time. After the battle of Waterloo 6 p.m. was the time at which the beau monde took their substantial meal, while at the present day many of the nobility do not dine till eight or nine; so we see through 400 years the dinner hour has gradually moved through twelve hours of the day—from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. When the dinner hour was so early, often no previous meal was taken.

The Romans, in the time of Cicero and Augustus, took an early breakfast, from three to four in the morning, a luncheon at twelve or one, and at about three o'clock the cœna, or principal meal of the day, corresponding with our dinner. Concurrently, we read of some not dining until sunset. A Roman dinner at the house of a wealthy man consisted chiefly of three courses. All sorts of stimulants to the appetite were first served up, and eggs were indispensable to the first course. Among the many dishes we may instance the guinea hen, pheasant, nightingale, and thrush as birds most in repute. The Roman gourmands held peacocks in great estimation, especially their tongues. Macrobius states that they were first eaten by Hortensius, the orator, and acquired such repute that a single peacock was sold for 50 denarii, the denarius being equal to about eight pence halfpenny of our money.

A GENIUS IN CRIME.

Wonderful Career of a Notorious American Burglar.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Detectives arrested on Friday night a well known burglar with his pockets full of professional implements. He was John Clare, alias Gilmore, alias Geo. J. Bedford. In pockets constructed for the purpose he carried a key hole saw, brace and bit (new patent) a steel punch, a "jimmy" of new device, two diamond pointed drills, a Bessemer steel screw for forcing safes, two worm bits, one pair of pincers, a cord fuse, some dynamite, a dark lantern and a loaded revolver. Clare is a clever and desperate thief. He was born in this city 48 years ago. When 21 he was arrested in Baltimore for the murder of Henry B. Grove, in 1865. He was convicted of murder in the first degree and sentenced, but got a new trial and was acquitted. In June, 1874, under the name of Gilmore, he bought the saloon and restaurant adjoining the New York County Bank at Eighth avenue and Fourteenth street, paying $70,000. His intention was to bore his way through the bank wall, but his "pals" made such a noise while at work in the saloon cellar that the neighbors called the police. He escaped, but was arrested on March 27, 1876, and sentenced to four years in states prison. In 1884, for robbing a savings bank at Larrabie, Iowa, he was sentenced to 22 years' imprisonment, but he again managed to get a pardon at the expiration of eight years, on account of his good conduct, and his inventions. He has been in many other "jobs," several of large size.

A Woman In It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A shooting affray this morning on Bedloes Island resulted in the probably fatal wounding of Sergeant Vann, and the wounding in the arm of private Patrick King, who was walking behind Vann when the shooting was done. Private Miller was the man who did the shooting. He was jealous for some time of the attention paid by Vann to a German girl who is employed by a saloon keeper on the island. Vann had just returned from the city and was approaching the quarters of the company to which he belonged, when Miller, who was sitting on the verandah, suddenly sprang to his feet, and without a word, raising a 45 calibre Springfield carbine, fired. The bullet went through Vann's chest and then through the left arm of Private King. Both the wounded men are in the hospital. It is thought Vann will die. Miller was placed in the guard house.

A New Union Order.

CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—The Trades Assembly of this city have taken an unusual step in requesting all members of the various trades unions of the city to require every clerk in the hundreds of clothing stores to exhibit a union card before purchasing any goods of any description from such clerk. Many of the clerks are inclined to resent this idea as an unjust kind of espionage, and claim that were the same plan carried out to its logical limits untold inconvenience and annoyance would result in almost every branch of business. The employers sympathize with the views of the clerks and at the same time are afraid to declare themselves opposed to the assembly's scheme for fear of boycott.

The Buckley Murder.

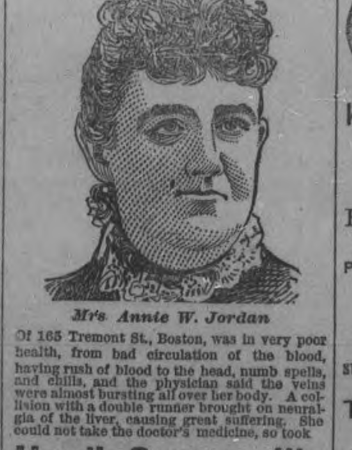
CHRISTIANA, Oct. 8.—Particulars of the murder of Captain Buckley and wife on the bark William Hales, New York for Capetown, have been ascertained from Captain Larson, now at Christiana. Larson obtained his information from the mate of the Hales, who boarded his ship just north of the equator. The Chinese cook, the mate said, killed the Captain and Mrs. Buckley while they were alone with him in the cabin, on September 4. The cook mutilated the bodies. Before the murders were discovered he jumped overboard and was drowned. The Chinaman's motive could not even be guessed, as his relations to the captain had been apparently pleasant.

Rabbis in Council.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A number of Jewish Rabbis have arrived here to attend the conference called by Chief Rabbi Jacob Joseph for Monday and Tuesday. The object of the conference is to protest against the so-called "reform" Rabbis who have created such a stir in orthodox circles of late. The fight between the orthodox and reform Rabbis is very bitter, and threatens a serious split in the Hebrew church.

Made Famous by Pork.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Oct. 10.—James M. Ryan, the Galena pork packer, well known in produce exchange circles throughout the country, died of heart failure on a street car here to-night.



Mrs Annie W. Jordan

Of 165 Tremont St., Boston, was in very poor health, from bad circulation of the blood, having rush of blood to the head, numb spells, and chills, and the physician said the veins were almost bursting all over her body. A collision with a double runner brought on neuralgia of the liver, causing great suffering. She could not take the doctor's medicine, so took and soon fully recovered, and now enjoys perfect health. She says she could praise Hood's Sarsaparilla all day and then not say enough.

HOOD'S PILLS are hand made, and are perfect in composition, proportion and appearance.

COWICHAN AND SALT SPRING.

Annual Exhibition at Duncan's of this Thriving Agricultural District.

With good weather and a large number of visitors present from the district, Victoria, Nanaimo and the mainland, the twenty-fifth annual exhibition of the Cowichan and Salt Spring Island Agricultural Society could not fail to be successful. It was the best show in the history of the society and the most largely attended. The specimens of all kinds were exceptionally good, and the live stock, as a general rule, above the average. The Kuper Island Indian band provided the music for the day, and discharged their duty in commendable fashion. All the old exhibitors had their products on view, and the judging met with universal approval. The following were the judges:—

For horses, cattle and poultry, Dr. Tolmie, M. Bray and Strickland Bevins; for fruit, etc., Jas. Nightingale and H. Croft, M.P.P.; for grain and butter, A. R. Johnstone and R. Fell; for sports, H. O. Wellburn and Angus Bell.

It Need Only Cost You Twenty-Five Cents.

Thousands of men, women and young people in Canada can truly say that they have rid themselves of hoarseness, coughs, colds and irritation of the bronchial tubes at a cost of twenty-five cents. The average cost, if a physician had effected the cure, would have been two dollars.

The effectual, cheap and quick remedy was Harvard Bronchial Syrup. In many cases the cure was almost instant; in other cases the wonderful syrup cured in from six to twenty-four hours.

Hundreds of our best doctors are now advising their friends to use Harvard Bronchial Syrup, as it is perfectly pure and harmless. In every section of Canada, the druggists speak most favorably about the wonderful cough preparation, and report increased sales. Heads of families should see that a bottle is provided for the home.

Mothers

Castoria is recommended by physicians for children teething. It is a purely vegetable preparation, its ingredients are published around each bottle. It is pleasant to the taste and absolutely harmless. It relieves constipation, regulates the bowels, quiets pain, cures diarrhœa and wind colic, allays feverishness, destroys worms, and prevents convulsions, soothes the child and gives it refreshing and natural sleep. Castoria is the children's panacea—the mothers' friend. 35 doses, 35 cents.

Graef's Unfortunate Model.

VIENNA, Oct. 8.—Bertha Rother, five years ago the best known woman in Germany outside of the Royal family, has been expelled from Vienna for disreputable behavior. Rother was the model for a famous picture, painted by Graef, and entitled "Das Maedchen." The picture represented an innocent young girl, without garments to conceal her perfect form. After the picture had been placed on exhibition, Rother accused Graef of having ruined her, and the consequent proceedings in court made "Das Maedchen" as well known as the "Sistine Madonna." The picture was taken from city to city and exhibited to hundreds of thousands for 35 cents a head. Graef is said to have made a fortune out of it. Rother lost her suit, went to Austria, and in five years sank to her present low condition.

And whereas for the purposes aforesaid it is intended to raise by way of loan upon the credit of the city the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars.

And whereas it will require the sum of $1,-239.00 to be raised annually by special rate for the payment of the debt and interest as hereinafter mentioned.

And whereas the amount of the whole ratable property of the said Corporation of the City of Victoria according to the revised assessment roll, for the year 1891, was $17,563,148.

And whereas it is intended to reduce the general rate so that the said Special rate shall not increase the total rate of taxation.

Be it therefore enacted by the Corporation of the City of Victoria as follows:

SECTION 1.—It shall be lawful for the Mayor of the Corporation of the City of Victoria to borrow upon the credit of the said Corporation, by way of the debentures hereinafter mentioned, from any person or persons, body or bodies corporate who may be willing to advance the same as a loan, a sum of money not exceeding in the whole the sum of $25,000.00 currency, or sterling money at the rate of $4.86 2-3rds dollars to the one pound sterling, and to cause all such sums so raised or received to be paid into the hands of the Treasurer of the said Corporation for the purpose and with the object hereinbefore recited.

SECTION 2.—It shall be lawful for the said Mayor to cause any number of debentures to be made for such sums as may be required, not exceeding, however, the sum of $25,000.00 either in currency or sterling money (at the rate of $4.86 2-3 dollars to the one pound sterling) as may be required, each of the said debentures being of the amount of $1,000 or its sterling equivalent at the rate aforesaid, and all such debentures shall be sealed with the seal of the said Corporation and signed by the Mayor thereof.

SEC. (3).—The said debentures shall be made payable in fifty years from the date hereinafter mentioned for this By-law to take effect, at the office of the Treasurer of the said Corporation in the City Hall, Victoria, and shall have attached to them coupon's for the payment of interest, and the signature of the Mayor or of the Clerk of the Corporation respecting to the coupons may be affixed by printed, stamped or lithographed fac simile.

SECTION 4.—The said debentures shall bear interest at the rate of 4½ per cent. per annum from the date thereof, which interest shall be payable half-yearly at the office of the said Treasurer.

Sec. (5). For the purpose of forming a sinking fund for the payment of the said debentures and the interest to become due thereon, an equal special rate of 3-40ths of a mill in the dollar shall in addition to all other rates be levied and collected in each year upon all rateable property within the City of Victoria during the continuance of the said debentures or any of them.

SECTION 6.—This By-law shall before the final passage thereof receive the assent of the electors of the said Corporation in the manner provided for by the Municipal Act, 1892, and shall take effect on the 14th day of October, 1892.

SECTION 7.—This By-law may be cited as the "Street Loan By-Law, 1892."

Passed the Municipal Council this 28th day of September, 1892.

VOTING TO-MORROW.

The two loan by-laws, viz. $25,000 for streets and $100,000 for surface drains, will be voted on to-morrow. The polling places for the several wards are as follows:

North Ward—City Hall.

Centre Ward—Burnes building, Bastion Square.

South Ward—No. 27 Government street.

The polls will be open between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. Ratepayers in favor of the passage of the by-laws should record their votes, as there is more danger that the by-laws will be defeated through the indifference of the liberal and progressive element of the city than in consequence of the active opposition of factionists and reactionaries. The $75,000 health by-law was beaten in this way, and should the unfortunate mistake be repeated to-morrow the city will be "in a hole" indeed, and a very muddy and very deep one too. The rival city of Vancouver has let a contract to pave its principal streets with asphaltum, and before Victoria can follow the example the question of drainage must be settled. At the best it will take us a few years to catch up to the Mainland city in this respect; but should the obstructionists have their way and the "supplies" be refused, it will not be long before the question of which is the more desirable city to live in will be forever settled against us. With all our advantages we cannot run the risks attending a rest-and-be-thankful policy, especially when the other cities of the province are too enterprising to follow in the same rut.

OTTAWA RUMORS.

The Toronto World publishes a rumor to the effect that Hon. Mr. Dewdney is about to retire from the ministry and that the other members of the Government are in favor of making Hon. Mr. Patterson his successor as Minister of the Interior. What Mr. Dewdney's retirement means can be easily guessed. He is going to be our next Lieutenant-Governor, no matter what British Columbian opinion on his merits and demerits may be. Mr. Dewdney as a member of the Cabinet is neither useful nor ornamental, and it is not hard to understand the eagerness of his colleagues to get rid of him; but it seems a shame that he must be foisted on British Columbia in order to accomplish this purpose. It is quite certain that the majority of the people do not want a man of his character to occupy the place of honor among them, notwithstanding any recommendation that may have been made by any member of the Provincial Government. His capacity as a self-seeker and his incapacity as an administrator resulted very injuriously to the Northwest, and his failure as a Minister of the Interior has been notoriously evident. True it is that as Lieutenant-Governor of this province he would not be an actual administrator, but "His Honor" should be a man who can command honor and respect. That, we are very much afraid, Mr. Dewdney cannot do. But Lieutenant-Governor he is to be, apparently, for the Toronto World's announcement adds fresh evidence to the signs that have already been given. As to the Ministry of the Interior, it is probable that the World's statement regarding Mr. Patterson is intended as a "feeler." The chief objectors to his appointment will probably be certain Conservative members from Manitoba and the Northwest, each of whom considers himself the proper man for the place. The TIMES' opinion is that, in point of both ability and respectability the Secretary of State is much superior to any one of them, and in these respects he is certainly a great improvement on Mr. Dewdney. Nothing is said of Mr. Patterson's probable successor in the event of his taking Mr. Dewdney's portfolio, but the Government may not deem it advisable to take away the only Cabinet seat held by the western part of the Dominion and give no other in its place. There seems to be much uncertainty also as to Mr. Chapleau's position. It is stated that he has been offered the privilege of exchanging places with Lieut.-Governor Angers of Quebec, but that his friends urge him to remain in the Government. Some time ago it was reported that Sir Adolphe Caron was to go to Spencerwood and yield up his portfolio to Mr. Angers, but Sir Adolphe chose to remain in office, and his knowledge of campaign fund secrets rendered it inadvisable to use coercion in his case. It does not appear to matter very much what changes are made in the personnel of the Cabinet; the old policy is to be continued, and the old methods of manufacturing "public opinion" in favor of the old policy will be followed to the end of the chapter. If the people want clean government and the removal of the tariff incubus they need not look to the Conservative party for them.

CITY AND GOVERNMENT.

The TIMES gives to-day—at its earliest opportunity, it may be here noted—the correspondence between the Premier and the civic authorities in reference to what has now come to be known as the "Davie Plan." If the Premier and the Colonist derive any comfort or satisfaction from contemplation of this correspondence, they will find no one to begrudge it to them. Any reader of ordinary intelligence can see for himself how poorly Premier Davie comes out of the affair. The net result is that he abandons a position which he assumed with too great haste and without due enquiry, perhaps because he was so rashly eager to see his precious plan adopted. As matters stand now this plan goes by the board and he holds himself that there would be no utility in asking the Supreme Court to pronounce on its validity. Apart from the question of legality, the general opinion will be that the plan embodied a bad policy. It was subversive of a provision deliberately embodied in the Municipal Act by the Legislature. If that provision could be lightly set aside by the fiat of the Government then the plain conclusion would be that it should not have a place in the Act, and in that case it should be repealed at the Legislature's earliest opportunity.

There is another fact made clear by the correspondence, namely, that the Council has already taken other measures than that proposed in order to meet the difficulties which have been placed in its way. Additional taxation has been imposed for the purpose of meeting part of the extraordinary and unexpected outlay. We may here point out that it is further proposed that the ratepayers shall to-morrow authorize the borrowing of money to cover work hindered by the extra drain on the year's revenue. Then the proposed sewerage work is to be done on the local improvement plan. Such steps having been taken, would it be either legal or fair to submit to the people the three other propositions agreed upon at that celebrated conference? Surely it would have been absurd to ask the ratepayers to authorize the five distinct and separate loans, two of which were prohibited by clause 118, and these in addition to the increase in taxation and the adoption of the local improvement system for the sewerage work.

As to the questions for decision by the Supreme Court, it must be admitted that the Mayor's proposal to widen the reference is a good one. Premier Davie in his last letter narrowed his questions down to two, but the public must be quite as much interested in those which Mayor Beaven proposes. The Government has claimed extraordinary power to interfere with the municipal self-government of this city, and it would be well to have settled just how far its claim is good. If the Government's powers are such as have been set forth, then we have a state of affairs here which would not be tolerated in any other part of Canada where municipal government is established.

McLean's Latest.

McLean, he of boat racing, foot racing, canoe racing and all sorts of fame, is off on another tack. He is going to paddle a race in dugouts with a big, strong, "husky," "skookum" Siwash for all the "stuff" the latter's tribe can "put up." David Tamarack is the Indian's name, and he can raise $600 that he can flatten out Alex Ender the great. The race will be made on Wednesday, unless there is a hitch. The Indian is said to have developed good speed in a recent trial, and the match, if made, will not only be unique, but interesting. The course will be from Jones' boathouse around Deadman's Island and return. McLean is not to be allowed to stand up in the dugout. "Dave" gets 25 yards' start. Single paddles are to be used. David is a Songish man, and is said to be extraordinarily "husky."

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of School Trustees will be held at the city hall on Tuesday, the 11th instant, at 8 p.m.

CONFERENCE OF SUFFRAGANS

Important Questions at Present Before the Roman Catholic Church.

Bishop Lemmens returned on Saturday evening from the ecclesiastical conference of the suffragans of the archdiocese of Portland. The conference was called, in common with conferences of other archdioceses to consider the Catholic school question of the United States in all its bearings. The Archbishops of the Union are convening on Oct. 16th, and the conference of suffragans was to obtain the views of the different bishops in reference to the Faribault and Stillwater cases, over which there has been much comment.

The principle involved in the Faribault and Stillwater cases is: Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, had parochial schools at Stillwater and Faribault in his diocese. He saw that it was not practical to longer maintain these parochial schools. He handed them over to the state with the understanding that no religion be taught during the regular school hours and that Protestant children be admitted to attend the schools, the state to pay all expenses. The Catholic religious teachers were to continue in charge and the Catholic children were to be instructed after the usual school hours in the doctrine of the Catholic faith. Dr. Bouguillon, professor of dogmatic theology in the Catholic university of Washington, D.C., wrote in defense of the action of Archbishop Ireland. Archbishop Corrigan, of New York, opposed the primate of the west. The Holy See was asked to adjudicate. The Papal encyclical, while it did not approve of the action, did not condemn Archbishop Ireland.

The adherents of Archbishop Ireland claimed a victory, while the followers of Archbishop Corrigan contended that the encyclical all but condemned the action of Archbishop Ireland. This conference of the archbishops is to finally deal with this question.

CITY POLICE COURT.

Quen Gin charged Edward Kerer with assault. Kerer entered a plea of guilty, but the court directed the Celestial to tell his story. The Chinaman said he was talking to the proprietress at the Angel Hotel when Kerer first threw a pan at him, and then a milk jug. The jug struck him on the head. When the Chinaman was on the floor Kerer struck him several times. Kerer asked his pigtailship had he not two butcher knives in his hands. The Chinaman equivocated and then replied in the negative.

Constable Smith testified that Kerer was drunk at the time. Kerer had been warned by witness after the first assault not to strike the Chinaman again. Kerer repeated the assault and witness arrested him. Kerer said that the Celestial was having a dispute when he, Kerer, appeared on the scene to quell the disturbance. The Chinaman had a butcher knife in his hand and had raised it in a threatening manner. He then threw a cup at the Chinaman in self-defence.

Ah Sam also swore to being assaulted by Kerer. Kerer pleaded not guilty to this charge. Kerer said he did not throw anything at Ah Sam, but the missile intended for Quen Gin might have struck Ah Sam.

The Court sentenced Kerer to a week in jail and a fine of $10 on each charge.

"Sandy" Williams was charged with being a frequenter of a house of ill-fame. "Sandy" did not appear and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

David Morris asked the court to make W. G. Bowman, the livery man, pay him his wages, which amounted to $13. The clerk stated that Bowman had paid the $13 into court and also $2 costs. The case was therefore dismissed.

ONE OF THE PASSENGERS.

The Captain and Crew Were Cool, and Little Excitement Prevailed.

Mr. J. R. Francis, who was in the smoking room of the steamer Premier when the bow of the collier Willamette crashed through that steamer, was in the city this morning on his way to San Francisco. He told a TIMES reporter what he knew of the accident.

It occurred shortly after two on Saturday afternoon. The Premier was on her way from Port Townsend to Seattle, and the Willamette was going from Seattle to San Francisco, with several thousand tons of coal. The fog was dreadfully thick and the Premier's whistle was being blown every minute to prevent an accident. All the passengers were in the cabins, twenty of them being in the smoking room, some playing whist and others watching the game. Mr. Francis was among the lookers-on. He was sitting on a railing, facing a window on the port side. When just off Point No Point, he saw those between him and window dodge to one side. This gave him a clear view, and he saw the huge hull of the Willamette coming straight towards him. He quickly jumped off the railing and out of the way.

"In less than a second, said Mr. Francis, "that railing on which I was sitting was smashed into a million pieces, and a man and a boy who had been sitting alongside of me, were killed. There was little or no excitement among that group of twenty men, although chairs, tables and splinters were flying in every direction. Every man kept cool. Some went for their valises, while others ran to the ladies' cabin to asssist the occupants of that portion of the steamer."

"Captain Fitzboy and his officers," said Mr. Francis, "deserve a great deal of credit. When the accident happened, and they had found out the extent of it, they knew just what to do, and they were all just where they were needed. The captains of the two steamers held a short consultation, and it was decided to first put all the passengers on board the Willamette, and then beach the Premier. The big collier's bow was still fast in the side of the Premier, so there was no difficulty in transferring the passengers. This was done quickly and quietly. The crew of the Premier remained on board of their boat, and the Premier, with the collier on her bow, started for Brush point; where both steamers were beached.

An examination of the bow of the Willamette was made, and it being found that she had received no injury, an effort was made to separate the two steamers. The attempt, however, was fruitless, and even when a passing tug came to their assistance the Willamette could not be moved. The Premier's passengers and the dead and wounded were taken to Seattle by the tug.

Mr. Francis could not say how many persons were killed, but he thought there must have been at least six or seven. They were: Frank Wynkoop, a boy; Joanus Mole and John Rankin. These were the only ones known when Mr. Francis left the wreck. Besides these he said he knew that one man jumped overboard and two of the crew who were down below, were killed. Mr. Francis was about the only man in the smoking room who was not injured.

Captain John Irving, manager of the C.P.N. Company, owners of the steamer Premier, went over to the Sound last evening. He will enquire into the accident and see what can be done with the boat. She was fully insured.

The Premier was built in San Francisco six years ago for the C.P.N. Company. She was to have gone in the Tacoma drydock to-day to be overhauled, and the steamer North Pacific was ready to take her run on the Whatcom route.

Fuller Particulars.

The steamer Goliah, which arrived at midnight last night from Port Townsend, brought the news of a terrible collision between the steam collier Willamette and steamer Premier, says the Seattle Telegraph, by which four people were killed, 14 others more or less injured, and the report that one other was drowned, having jumped overboard.

The names of the known dead are:

LIST OF INJURED.

The following are the names of the injured as far as they could be learned:

W. H. Philips of Louisville, Ky., cut about the legs and one rib broken.

D. J. Wynkoop, head badly cut and leg cut.

F. W. Vest, left leg cut and left hand injured.

C. S. Gilbert, cut over the eye.

Charles Allen, arm broken.

Mrs. Wilcox, arm badly bruised.

A. W. Davis, of Port Townsend, injured internally, and two slight incisions on the right side of the head.

WHERE THEY COLLIDED.

The Willamette was going out with a load of coal from the Oregon Improvement Company in Seattle for San Francisco and the Premier was on her way to Seattle, having left Port Townsend about 35 minutes before the disaster, and was just below Bush Point, about eight miles this side of Port Townsend, when the collier struck her.

The collision occurred at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, during thick weather and a heavy drizzle.

The Willamette, without warning, struck the Premier with her great sharp bow and enormous momentum, which a load of coal could give, crashing into the Premier amidships on the port side near the smokestack and cutting the ill-fated steamer almost to her keel.

One man was crazed with fright and jumped overboard, only to meet death by drowning. His name could not be learned.

The captain and crew of the Willamette promptly lent assistance to the disabled Premier and her wounded passengers.

It was found that the bulkhead was all right and that there was no danger of the Premier going down, and the Willamette at once towed her to the beach. In doing so the collier also got aground and both are now on the beach.

The steamer Goliah heard the distress signals and at once went to the assistance of the vessels, and afterwards took off the passengers, wounded, dead and the mails, and brought all to Seattle, together with the story of the awful disaster.

Both Moe and Rankin had likewise sustained violent blows on the head. Blood was oozing from their mouths and each had doubtless sustained internal injuries. Rankin's left arm was broken.

Moe resided near Tacoma. He was a German, 40 years of age. Rankin was a waiter, and about 25 years of age.

No one could be found who knew the man who was seen to jump overboard. Several witnessed his desperate leap for life, but none saw him after.

E. W. Vest of St. Louis, was found at the Occidental hotel. Said Mr. Vest:

"There were four of us playing whist in the forward saloon, W. H. Phillips, J. K. McDougal, C. S. Gilbert and myself. D. J. Wynkoop had just vacated his seat in favor of Mr. Gilbert and stood watching the game.

"Suddenly there was a shock. We were scattered and piled up every way. Where our table had stood was a hole which looked down into the sea. After striking, the Willamette recoiled for an instant and then came upon us again and wedged herself into the hole she had already made.

"We cannot say too much in praise of the coolness and management of the captain of the Premier and the courtesy of her officers."

C. M. Hall, Charles Allen and Dr. E. George were the only occupants of the dining saloon at the time of the collision. Mr. Allen was pitched 20 feet and sustained severe scalp wounds. The other two escaped uninjured.

A waiter who was in the act of waiting on these gentlemen was thrown about 25 feet and had his arm broken.

John Rankin, one of the men killed, was well-known in Victoria, having lived here for a number of months. He was a son of John Rankin, the former steward of the steamer City of Kingston.

STILL ON THE BEACH.

PORT TOWNSEND, Oct. 10.—The steamer Premier is still on the beach at Bush Point. The Willamette went to Seattle last night. The insurance adjusters are aboard the Premier to adjust the loss.

Professional Skill.

In a case heard in the County Court to-day, the plaintiff, being an accountant, sued for services rendered the defendant and charged for said services at the rate of $1 per hour. The defendant objected that the plaintiff had done very little work, and produced his books to prove his statement. The court, however, decided that it was not amount, but the character of the work done that should be taken into consideration. It may have taken the accountant years of assiduity and research to get a thorough knowledge of his profession, and to reduce items roughly thrown together to a proper and scientific form. A man might make the same objection to the advice of a lawyer, which might consist of only two lines, but the fact could not be lost sight of that perhaps weeks of patient study were required to enable him to give the advice. And if uneducated labor got 50 cents an hour, one dollar an hour was not too much for educated labor. The plaintiff won the case, and a broad smile indicated his approval of the Chief Justice's decision.

Voting To-morrow.

The two by-laws, for streets and drainage, will be voted on to-morrow, the poll being open between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. The polling places are as follows:—North Ward, city hall; Centre Ward, Burnes' building, Bastion Square; South Ward, No. 27 Government street. Every real estate owner who feels an interest in the welfare and progress of the city will turn out and vote. Those who want to see the by laws carried and do not record their votes are practically helping to defeat their own wishes. It requires a three-fifths majority to make the by-laws law.

The Dedication Arranged.

St. Andrew's Roman Catholic cathedral will be dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 30th. The dedicatory ceremonies will be performed by Archbishop Gross, of Portland, Ore., Bishop Geovia of Idaho, Bishop Junger Washington, Bishop Durier, Westminster, Bishop Lutens and Bishop Lemmens, Victoria, will also be present. Bishop Brondell, of Helena, Montana, may attend. Bishop Lemmens will officiate. Archbishop Gross will preach. The church will be finished by the 15th inst. The seating capacity is 1200, but may be increased at any time to 1500.

The Skins Delivered.

The 150 sealskins on the steamer Coquitlam, replevied by Captain D. Urquhart on Saturday, were surrendered by Captain McLellan on the presentation of the order from the court. It is not known whether they were intercepted or not, but such action is unlikely under the circumstances. The skins will probably be sold late this evening. The price is stated to be about $11.

A Walking Case of Smallpox.

Walking cases of smallpox do not appear to create the amount of excitement in other places which one or two did in Victoria a few weeks ago. In Seattle a day or two ago a man named Gowan, afflicted with smallpox, walked into the health officer's quarters, and was in the course of a few hours placed in hospital without any political capital being made out of the event by anyone.

Meeting This Evening.

The ladies interested in the Leap Year ball to be given shortly, will meet this evening at 7:30 in Philharmonic Hall. The ball is not to be given to the members of the Comus club.

The Elite dressmaking parlors have removed to 25 Douglas street.

SMUGGLING FINE GOODS.

A Woman Who Has Done a Big Business for Six Months.

A woman who makes frequent trips between Victoria and the Sound cities, has been doing a big business smuggling fine goods. When the fair smuggler comes to Victoria she is a very slim, innocent-looking little creature. During her stay in Victoria, however, she increases in size to an enormous entent.

This change made a couple of American officers suspicious, and investigations were made. It was found that the woman made about two trips a month, the last time taking with her several thousand dollars' worth of fine goods, especially silks. Her last trip was made on Friday night, when, it is estimated, that she took over $5000 worth of goods. The custom house officials on the other side were notified that she was going over, but they missed her.

She has been carrying on the business for the last six months.

The Report Confirmed.

The intimation published in the TIMES early last week to the effect that Walter Oakes would succeed D.B. Jackson as manager of the Puget Sound & Alaska Steamship Co., and that Henry Jackson, son of D. B. Jackson, would be made port captain or superintendent, proves to have been correct. The changes were made on Friday and the new management is now in charge. Walter Oakes has several recommendations besides being President T. F. Oakes' son. He is a bright young business man, popular for his uniform courtesy, and is fully capable of filling his new position.

Reckless Steamboating.

The fog on Saturday was, it seems, not alone responsible for the steamer Cutch being piled upon the beach at Vancouver. It seems she met the City of Nanaimo just at Brockton Point and the two raced to the wharf. The steamer Wilmington was running into Bell, Irving & Patterson's wharf and the Cutch, two lengths ahead of the Nanaimo, nearly ran her down, just shaved the end of the wharf and brought up on the beach. It is said the Cutch was leaking when she came off.

The Cariboo Election.

In Chambers this afternoon before the Hon. Mr. Justice Crease the application of Hugh Watt, M.P.P. for Cariboo, to show cause why the petition of William Morrison should not be taken off the files on the ground that no security had been given in accordance with the provisions of the Controverted Election Act, was abandoned. Messrs. Eberts and Taylor appeared for Mr. Morrison and Messrs. Drake, Jackson & Helmcken for Mr. Watt.

Took to the Water.

The Hibben brothers were given an involuntary ducking in the cold waters of the straits, off Beacon Hill, at noon yesterday. They were out sailing in their canoe, the Nautilus, and upset. They very easily righted the canoe again and continued their course toward Cadboro Bay, their destination. The mishap was seen from the shore and assistance was called, but as stated, no help was needed by the Messrs. Hibben.

Delegates Return.

The delegates to the district meeting, A.O.F., held at New Westminster, returned home last evening. There was a lot of business transacted at the meeting, and reports were received showing the order to be in good financial standing, after which the visitors were banquetted. The Victorians were highly pleased with the manner in which they were treated by the New Westminster Foresters.

The Missing Ones Found.

The Indian woman and man who left Seattle some time ago and had not been heard from up till last Friday are in the quarantine station. When a letter was received from Seattle enquiring for them, an item was published in the TIMES. A person knowing of the whereabouts of the missing couple saw the paragraph, and the Seattle friends have been notified of the couple's whereabouts.

Sick and Needy.

William C. Halpenny, an old timer in Victoria, applied for a night's lodging at the lock-up last night. Halpenny complained of feeling sick. He was examined by Dr. Watt this morning and sent to the Jubilee Hospital. Halpenny was cleared from the hospital about three months ago and went to Alberni.

The Pope Drowning Inquiry.

The taking of testimony in the Pope drowning case will begin before Capt. Gaudin to-morrow. Aside from the crew of the steamer R. P. Rithet about 12 witnesses have been subpœnaed, and the hearing will last two or three days.

Not Yet Arranged.

The committee of the Board of Trade appointed to confer with the attorney-general in regard to the insolvency law, have not yet arranged for the meeting. It will probably take place early this week.

No Date Arranged.

Sir M. B. Begbie, C. J., and Dr. Praeger, the commissioners appointed to investigate general health matters of the province, have not yet decided upon a date for the opening of the commission. The date will probably be named this week.

Resigned from the Force.

Officer Taylor of the city police force has resigned. His resignation has been accepted and Andrew S. Mouat has been appointed in his stead.

The ship Thermopylæ, belonging to the Victoria Rice & Flour Mills of this city, left Hongkong yesterday morning for Victoria. She has on board 1150 tons of paddy for the Victoria mills.

For San Francisco.

The steamer Walla Walla sailed for the South this morning with the following cabin passengers from this port: Chas. R. Pittock, and sister, Mrs. W. A. Landez, Mrs. A. Coyn, Mrs. C. McC. Campbell, Capt. Wise, Mrs. I. Cawley, Mrs. S. C. Campbell, Mrs. D. Sheldon, J. McNamara, B. G. McDougall, Mr. Bott and party.

Funeral of Byron V. Leigh.

There was a very large attendance at the funeral of the late Byron V. Leigh, held yesterday afternoon. The handsome casket was covered with floral offerings from the many friends of the deceased. The funeral services were conducted at the residence by Rev. Geo. Morden, pastor of the Victoria West Methodist church. The members of the I.O.G.T. were present and assisted in the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Dunnington, Goddin, Hewett, Andean, H. Knoot and J. Knoot.

The Habeas Corpus Case.

The argument on the rule nisi for a writ of habeas corpus in the case of the 13 seamen of the British ship Bankburn, was heard before His Lordship the Chief Justice at 10 a.m. His Lordship held that there was no illegality in the commitment and that the magistrate who tried the case had jurisdiction in the matter. It is probable that counsel for the prisoners will, at an early date, apply for a writ of certiorari for the purpose of procuring an inspection of the whole proceedings.

Return of the Geneva.

The sealing schooner Geneva, Capt. O'Leary, arrived in port from the sealing grounds on the Russian side yesterday morning. She had an uneventful voyage, crowding more experience into the last ten days than she had during the whole trip. Eleven days ago she reached Cape Cook, and has been ever since getting here. She met head winds and the meanest of weather all the way down to the straits. The Geneva kept away off the islands, saw no cutters and therefore had no trouble at all. Of the schooners still out she only saw the Annie Paint. That was on Sept. 5. She spoke many other schooners in the fleet, but they have all since returned to port. The Geneva took 600 sealskins on the Russian side bringing her total catch for the season up to 1271. The schooner went up to Grant's wharf last evening and will discharge her sealskins immediately.

Fire This Morning.

A fire was discovered in J. Whitlaw's store, No. 72 Fort street, at 6.50 this morning. The alarm was sent to No. 2 fire hall by a messenger boy from the District Telegraph office. Box No. 31 was pulled, but though some defect in the alarm system the firemen in No. 1 hall knew nothing of the fire until the first company called had a good start. When the chemical engine reached the building the fire was making rapid headway among the dry wooden buildings. The chemical again proved that the latest addition to the department apparatus was a good investment. In ten minutes the fire was under control, and before 7:30 the fire was completely extinguished. The building is owned by Mr. P. R. Brown, and is insured in the London and Canadian company. The furniture is insured in the same company. About $300 will cover the loss. A defective stove pipe caused the fire.

THE Y.M.C.A. MOCK PARLIAMENT

On Saturday evening the second meeting of the Y.M.C.A. Mock Parliament was held. The debate on the reply to the speech from the throne was continued. The policy of the Government over which Premier H. A. Sutherland presides embodies, among other things, the following questions:

"The maintenance of a strict quarantine against cholera;

"The enactment of measures calculated to bring the Mother Land and the colonies into closer commercial relations;

"The discouragement of speculation in real estate;

"The restriction of pauper and illtimed immigration;

"The acceptance of eight hours as the working day, and the betterment of the laboring man's condition by the establishment of libraries and institutions of learning;

"The extension of franchise rights to women;

"The nationalization of all railway and telegraph lines in the Empire, and

"The prompt punishmen: of the Russians for their recent aggressions on the high seas."

The following is the composition of the new Cabinet:

Hon. H. A. Sutherland—Prime Minister, President of the Privy Council and Superintendent General of Indian Affairs.

Hon. C. King—Minister of Finance.

Hon. W. S. Hampson—Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue.

Hon. J. L. White—Minister of Public Works.

Hon. Geo. Fraser—Minister of Agriculture.

Hon. F. W. Davie—Minister of Railways and Canals.

Hon. H. P. Elson—Secretary of State.

Hon. D. W. Bale—Minister of the Interior.

Hon. Jno. Spears—Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Hon. R. W. Roper—Minister of Justice.

Hon. John Boyd—Minister of Militia and Defence.

NEWS OF THE INTERIOR.

Mining and Notes of General Interest From the Upper Country Papers.

From the Revelstoke Star.]

Revelstoke is going to have a visit from the circus on the 29th inst. for the first time in the history of the town.

At a meeting of the Revelstoke Quadrille Club on Tuesday evening the following were elected officers for the ensuing season: President, C. H. Temple; vice-president, H. A. Brown; treasurer, I. T. Brewster; secretary, H. J. Bourne; M.C., Guy Barber; managing committee, J. P. Sutherland, J. Sydner and the officers.

For the past 10 days the weather has been delightful, the skies cloudless and the days warm, although the nights are a trifle chilly; but the grandeur of a full moon sailing over the mountain peaks in company with Jupiter and Mars lends an enchanting attraction to Selkirk scenery and is a fine incentive to outdoor exercise.

Mr. H. N. Coursier, who recently visited some of the mining claims in the Lardeau, brought back with him a piece of rock casually picked up from the dump at one of the claims. Being curious to know what it would sample, he sent it to Mr. W. Pellew Harvey, Golden, for assay, and has just received the result—732oz. 8dwt. silver per ton.

The Columbia was delayed several hours on her way down river last Monday by a thick fog in the early morning, and in consequence was late on her return journey. On Thursday of last week she broke an eccentric rod on her down trip, which made her eight hours late at Robson. The chief engineer of the company has been making the repairs during the trips.

The latest discovery in the Slocan has been made by Harry Thomas, who left Revelstoke a few weeks ago on a prospecting trip. He has been speedily rewarded by finding a magnificent ledge of galena cropping up in good shape. He arrived at Nakusp yesterday with samples of ore for assay. Prospectors and men competent to judge say he has made a rich find.

J. E. Long and partner have discovered a very rich-looking ledge of galena near Bear Lake, Slocan, and brought up samples last Saturday for assay. The ledge is a large one, with four feet of solid ore. Two claims were located, and Mr. Long expects the assay will show the ore to be of exceeding richness, but until the returns arrive they will put in time on the assessment work, and went down by Monday's boat for that purpose.

Mr. John Stauber, who came up from the Lardeau on Friday last, brought with him a number of skins in prime condition. They included two bears, eight minks, nine wolves (seven feet long), three wolverines and fifty martens. Mr. Stauber spends very few idle moments. He has a silver mine on which he has done all the assessment work this summer, a large ranch, and also finds time to make trails, go trapping and do a great deal of prospecting.

Mr. Law, of Golden, who has been authorized to collect specimens of mineral from the two Kootenays for the Chicago fair, called at this office on Wednesday. He will make up a fine collection of ores from the Lardeau and Slocan. Speaking of the Mineral Act, Mr. Law thinks the present law would be all right with a little alteration. Three stakes should be placed along the ledge, each outside stake 750 feet from the centre one, which should be recognizable to all comers as the "centre stake." This would always render the finding of the boundaries of the claim an easy job. Locators should be allowed to follow the dip right or left. Mr. Law promised to give his views on the subject in these columns shortly.

[From the Inland Sentinel.]

Schwitz's Boy called Ike, charged with intent to commit murder, pleaded guilty and was sentenced to seven years in the penitentiary.

Koski, a Finlander, charged with shooting near Revelstoke with intent to kill, pleaded guilty at Kamloops assizes, and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary.

Owing to the melting of the snow which fell on the mountains last week the waters of the Columbia rose about seven feet one night at Revelstoke, and carried away the framework of a scow which was being built on the beach near the schoolhouse.

On Tuesday evening a number of the friends of Mr. Justice Walkem honored him with a dinner at the Grand Pacific Hotel, Kamloops, which was an elegant and a most enjoyable occasion.

This community, Lillooet, was startled on the 30th ult. by the news of the sudden death of Mr. P. H. Ward, which was caused by the bursting of a blood vessel en route to Clinton to consult a doctor. No one except the stage driver was with him at the time. He was a general favorite and will be greatly missed in this district. The funeral was very largely attended. He came to the province in 1858, and was about 53 years old at the time of his death. He followed mining pursuits since his arrival, principally at Big Bar, and was one of the discoverers of the Bonanza mineral claim, in which he held an interest; was also partner with Mr. E. S. Peters in a hydraulic mine at Lillooet, which he worked during the last three years; was a native of the Mohawk valley, but became a British subject. Has sisters and brothers living in New York.

From the Kootenay Star.]

A meeting of miners was held at Illecillewaet on Thursday night to consider the working of the Mineral Act. Mr. Anderson was called to the chair, and Professor Watson was appointed secretary. After considerable discussion, in which all present testified as to the present inconvenient and unsatisfactory mode of staking claims, it was proposed by Captain Banfield and carried unanimously: "That a committee be appointed to draft a petition to the Legislative Assembly praying them to repeal the present act and re-enact the old laws of 1891." The meeting was almost unanimous in the opinion that the owner of a mining location should have the right to follow his lode in all its dips, spurs and angles. Professor Watson, Captain Banfield and Messrs. Fowler and McArthur will form the committee.

THE BY-LAWS.

TO THE EDITOR:—In reply to a ratepayer (of yesterday morning's Colonist) I may say that I agree with him in his general objections to the principle of borrowing money. But on the present occasion there does not seem to be any alternative. The streets are in bad condition, and filthy ditches abound, containing stagnant water that no slight patching and temporary work will remedy. They must be made complete, so as to drain to the sea, and it requires money to do it; and if Ratepayer will carefully examine the financial condition of the city he will understand that the money required cannot, this year, be taken for that purpose out of the current revenue. The present council are in no way responsible for the condition of the ditches, for they have been in the present deplorable condition for years. All the money that could be spared out of thiis year's revenue for streets and bridges, has been expended. Therefore, unless, these by-laws are approved by the ratepayers by to-morrow's vote, no work can be done.

Let there be no mistake! There will be no use for the residents of the city to continue to petition to have their streets and drains put in order if the by-laws are defeated. For the council will be powerless to attend to their appeals, no matter how much they may wish to do so. Therefore, I hope all will turn out and vote for the by-laws and for the health and best interests of all.

TAXPAYER.

THE COLONIST AND EDUCATION.

TO THE EDITOR:—In a late editorial of the Colonist under the heading of "A singular result," that paper refers to an item, which had appeared in the Toronto Week, written by one F. H. Turnock, in which he leads his readers to conclude that the pupils attending the schools and colleges in many parts of Canada do not learn to spell or to write their own language clearly and correctly, and that education does not educate. As proof, he states that out of 60 applications for a position as teacher in one of the best schools in the Northwest Territories, only six were properly or correctly written. If the Colonist and Mr. Turnock want any further proof they can get it right here in the Education Department of British Columbia. It is now notorious that false returns of graded schools had been published in our superintendent's annual school report; because they did not know how to do it properly. Also that a single regulation had to be orally officially explained away; because the department could not clearly express its desire in written language. No later than August last an important official letter from our education office consisting of 55 words, written with a pen and bearing the signature of a minister, contained a mis-spelled word.

May not the education department exclaim oh! save me from my friend—slaves, martinets, and uneducated indeed! Surely the minority, which rules the country, ought now to be ashamed of its education department.

Mr. Bellingham goes to accept a lucrative position in Seattle.

The following is the correspondence between Czar Davie and Mayor Beaven, omitting a letter from the provincial health officer, which is not pertinent to the controversy as to the powers and jurisdiction of the provincial authorities:

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 5, 1892.

W. J. Dowler, Esq., C.M.C., Victoria:

SIR—I have the honor to forward a copy of a letter received by the Executive from the Provincial Health Officer, and to direct the attention of the Council to the matters contained in such communication.

I also beg to enquire what steps have been taken by the Council towards carrying out the suggestions of my letter addressed to Alderman Styles, of the 27th ult., relative to sanitary matters, and in this connection I beg to say that the matter admits of no further delay.

I have the honor to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,
THEODORE DAVIE,
Attorney-General.

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 7, 1892.

Hon. Theo. Davie, Attorney-General, Victoria:

SIR—I am instructed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 5th inst., and to say that Ald. Styles placed your letter to him, of the 27th ult., before the Council, and it was decided to take it into consideration.

I am also requested to add that the Council are carrying on the business of the city in the true interest of the ratepayers, giving especial attention to sanitary, health and hospital matters. I have the honor to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,
W. J. DOWLER, C.M.C.

ATTORNEY-GENERAL'S OFFICE,
VICTORIA, Oct. 6, 1892.

Robt. Beaven, Esq., Mayor, City:

DEAR SIR—I beg to enclose draft case, which it is proposed to submit to the Supreme Court immediately, raising important questions under the Health Act and the Municipal Act, 1892, and embracing the points upon which I suggested to the committee of Aldermen who recently waited upon the Government should be submitted to the city's legal advisers for their opinion, but which suggestion the city has not seen fit, so far, to adopt.

I have caused communication to be had with the Registrar of the Supreme Court, from whom I understand that their Lordships will be prepared to hear argument on Saturday next, and meanwhile, I think it would be well for you to instruct counsel to support the negative of the questions proposed to be submitted, and with whom I shall be happy to confer, as to the form and contents of the case.

Your truly,
THEODORE DAVIE,
Attorney-General.

ENCLOSURE—CASE STATED.

In re the Health Act, the Municipal Act, 1892, and the Supreme Court Reference Act.

CASE STATED.

It being considered of importance by His Honor the Lieutenant-Governor in Council that certain matters relating to the powers and authorities of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council under the "Health Act," and certain questions arising under the "Municipal Act, 1892," should be defined by judicial ruling, His Honor, by and with the advice of his Executive Council, has been pleased to order, and it is hereby ordered, that the following matter be referred to the Supreme court of British Columbia, sitting as a Divisional Court, for the opinion of such court, under the provisions of the "Supreme Court Reference Act, 1891":

1. The Corporation of the City of Victoria has constructed main sewers in certain portions of the city. It would require, in excess of moneys presently available, say, $25,000 to make effective the work already performed, but not including branch sewers to the side lines of the streets (which it is now, since the defeat of the by-law in this paragraph mentioned, proposed should be done under the local improvement system), nor common sewers. During the present year, but before Asiatic cholera had reached the United States, as mentioned in paragraph three hereof, the corporation submitted a by-lay to the taxpayers to raise $300,000 for the purpose, as expressed in the peramble, "of sewerage works, within the area of the City of Victoria, bounded by the northerly side of Beacon Hill Park, Victoria Harbor, the northerly side of Chatham street, the easterly side of Blanchard street, the northerly side of Pandora avenue, and the easterly side of Cook street, by constructing common sewers and branch sewers to the side lines of the streets wherever deemed expedient, within such area."

2. The corporation of the city of Victoria also, simultaneously with submitting the by-law referred to in the preceding paragraph, submitted a by-law to raise $75,000 for the purpose, as set out in the preamble, "of providing a fund for the Board of Health expenses incurred, and to be incurred, by the corporation of the city of Victoria." Both of such by-laws were defeated.

Question:—In view of section 118 of the "Municipal Act, 1892," would it be lawful for the corporation, during the same year, to submit by-laws for all or either of the following purposes:

(a) For raising $25,000 to render effective the existing sewerage work.

(b) For raising $50,000 to meet expenses incurred in suppressing a recent epidemic of smallpox.

(c) For raising $30,000 to provide means for the disposal of refuse and garbage, and for placing the city in sanitary condition so as to be prepared for a threatened invasion of Asiatic cholera?

Question:—Assuming that section 118 of the "Municipal Act" interposes an obstacle to the submission of the by-laws mentioned in ss. (a), (b) and (c) of the preceding question, would it be competent for the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to authorize the submission of such by-laws notwithstanding the provisions of section 118 of the "Municipal Act, 1892"?

3. There being good and sufficient reason to apprehend the invasion of contagious and epidemic disease, likely seriously to endanger life, particularly of Asiatic cholera, which has already entered certain parts of the United States, the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council has been pleased to appoint a Health Officer and to make certain rules and regulations for the preservation of the public health:

Question—Would it be competent for the Lieutenant-Governor in Council—

(a.) To annul or suspend the functions as a local Board of Health of any city, town or district municipality, and to appoint others to their place?

(b.) If not competent to wholly annul or suspend such functions, would it be lawful to limit the jurisdiction and duties of any such Board of Health to certain specified objects, and to appoint other persons to exercise the jurisdiction and perform the duties not comprehended within the objects to be so specified?

Question—Is it competent to pass regulations adopting compulsory vaccination: (a) within a municipality? (b) outside the limits of a municipality?

VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 7, 1892.

The Hon. Theodore Davie, Premier, &c.:

SIR—I am in receipt of your letter of yesterday's date, enclosing a draft case, which it is proposed by the Executive Council to submit to the Supreme Court to-morrow, raising questions under the Health Act and the Municipal Act, 1892.

There seems to be some misunderstanding with regard to city matters. For instance, the proposition to borrow $25,000 for sewerage purposes is too remote, to be now considered, the sum being totally inadequate to effect any beneficial purpose in the construction of the sewers.

Possibly the Government are unaware that the Council have determined to carry on the sewerage work under the Local Improvement By-law, not only in the limited area of the city referred to in your letter, but to extend over the entire portion of the city tributary to the present outfall sewer, the officers of the Corporation being actively engaged in the necessary preliminary work. The work of connecting buildings with the common sewers now laid will then soon proceed, thus disposing in a great measure with the sewerage within the area you name of the city. Possibly a loan may become necessary for purposes connected with the sewerage, but not such a one as you refer to. I am not aware that any obstacle would intervene to prevent the Corporation adopting that course when it may be necessary.

With regard to the proposition to raise $50,000 to meet expenses incurred in supressing smallpox, the council have already made provision for the expenditure. Since the rejection of the by-law for the same purpose, the rates of taxation have been fixed for the year. The fact has been taken into consideration that the expenses connected with the smallpox have in the first instance at any rate, to be met out of the revenues. The corporation has, however, claims to make in regard to the expenditure forced upon it.

Briefly speaking, the corporation are actively and successfully engaged in devising methods for carrying on the business of the city in the manner indicated as the wish of the ratepayers, by means within their reach.

With regard to raising $30,000 or any other sum, to provide means for the disposal of refuse and garbage, etc., etc., I think there can be no doubt as to the power of the Council to submit such a by-law to the ratepayers if the Council decide to do so.

Under these circumstances it does not seem probable that the Government will be asked by the corporation to set aside the decision of the ratepayers and to authorize the submission of by-laws for the purpose mentioned, notwithstanding the prevision of section 118 of the Municipal Act, 1892. I fail, therefore, to see the utility of occupying the time of the Judiciary in considering such question, putting aside the question of interference with legislative prerogative involved and the decision of the ratepayers.

With regard to the statement in the third paragraph, I have the opinion of the acting Health Officer that the probability of Asiatic cholera appearing in Victoria is getting more remote each day, but I consider that the utmost care should be exercised by the Dominion officials whose duty it is to prevent the introduction of contagious diseases into British Columbia from foreign parts. The acting Medical Health Officer is, I feel assured, doing his duty in this, as well as other matters relating to the public health.

As regards the third and fourth questions I have no remarks to offer. I would, however, respectfully suggest that additional questions be referred to the Supreme Court, and that the matters be not limited to the Municipal Act, 1892, but include other municipal legislation. For instance, it would be valuable to ascertain whether certain sections of the Health Act are constitutional, and as to how far that Act has become obsolete and has been repealed by subsequent legislation, also as to whether the Corporation is liable for expenses and for payment of officers and servants not employed under its authority. Also, as to whether a municipality is responsible for expenditure connected with the prevention of infectious diseases brought into the city by vessels from foreign and domestic ports.

I have conferred with the City Barristers upon the subject of your letter and they inform me that to even get the authorities together upon one of the questions invited independently of preparing an argument based upon them would require a longer time than to-morrow morning, and there being seven questions involved, besides the addition of others, it will be readily seen how futile it would be to proceed with this matter at the time indicated.

I have instructed the City Barristers to confer with you as to the form and contents of the case, it being desirable, if the matter is to receive a judicial consideration, that all questions which have arisen, or which may occur to us as likely to arise hereafter, should be determined.

The form of the case will require careful consideration in order to meet all questions.

Yours truly,
ROBERT BEAVEN,
Mayor.

ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.
VICTORIA, B.C., Oct. 7, 1892.

Hon. R. Beaven, Esq., Mayor of Victoria.

DEAR SIR:—At the recent conference with the Committee of the City Council, held on the 26th ult., the Government was informed that the several sums of $25,000, $50,000 and $30,000 for the purposes mentioned in my letter to Ald. Styles of the 27th ult., would be sufficient for the present sanitary needs of the city. Consequently in the same letter of the 27th ult., I suggested that by-laws be immediately drawn and submitted to the ratepayers for the purpose of raising such moneys, which suggestion (as well as the others contained in the same letter), was according to the public report of the proceedings of the council, held on the 28th of September, ordered to be carried out.

'Acting, therefore, upon such adoption, and so as to remove the doubts, which I understood were entertained by yourself and some others, as to the legality of the course thus resolved to be pursued, I prepared the draft case enclosed to you with my letter of the 6th instant, and am now somewhat surprised at receiving your letter of this day's date, which entirely ignores the resolution reported to have been arrived at by the Council on the 28th ult., and intimates that there is no occasion for occupying the time of the judiciary in considering the questions, as there is no intention of submitting the by-laws; and I am still more surprised at the receipt of a letter from the City Clerk also of this day's date, stating that Ald. Styles had placed my letter of the 27th ult. before the Council, and "it was decided to take it into consideration." The only conclusion that I can come to is that the public report of the Council's meeting of the 28th September was wrong, and that it was not resolved thereat that the suggestions of my letter be carried out.

Under the circumstances therefore it will be unnecessary to submit the first and second questions. I will endeavor to meet the views of the City Barristers, to whom you inform me you have referred the matter, as to the further questions submitted.

Yours truly,
THEODORE DAVIE,
Attorney-General.

THE AGE OF THE WORLD.

Disagreements of the Geologists and Other Scientists.

Baltimore Sun.]

In his address to the British Association Sir Archibald Geikie, the eminent geologist, took note of the revised estimates of the earth's age, which physicists are now forcing upon the world's attention. Since Sir Charles Lyell wrote his Principles geologists have been disposed to claim for the earth a vast antiquity. A thousand million of years would be, in the opinion of the orthodox geologist, a moderate estimate of its age. The present causes to be seen at work altering sea and land have been held to account sufficiently for the present appearance of the earth's surface. Catastrophes and cataclisms and other like hasty methods of effecting changes have been dismissed as the hypotheses of ignorance.

Unlimited time, in fact, has been quietly assumed by the geologist in explaining the phenomena of his science. The amount of sediment carried to the ocean by rivers measures both the wearing away of the land and the building up of new strata in the sea. The rate varies greatly. Where it is most rapid the lowering of the surface of the land is 1-730th of a foot a year; where it is slowest the rate is 6.800 of a foot a year. In other words, the rate of deposition of new sedimentary formations over an equivalent area of sea floor may vary from one foot in 70 years to one foot in 6800 years. Assuming that existing strata, where most fully developed, attain a thickness of 100,000 feet, the time required for their formation would thus appear to have been, at the most rapid rate, 73,000,000 years; at the slowest rate, 680,000,000 years.

It has been argued that all kinds of terrestrial energy are growing feeble; sedimentary deposits were made faster in former times. But there is no evidence of this, according to Sir Archibald, in the rocks. "We see no proof," he says, "that the rate of waste and sedimentation was more rapid during Mesozoic and Palæozoic time than it is to-day." Long periods of time are suggested by the successive races of plants and animals that have left their remains sealed up in the rocks. Vast ages must have elapsed while type was succeeding type in continuous progression.

There is, however, no evidence of recognizable specific variations of organic forms since man began to observe and record. We know of no single new species that has come into existence since the bodies of animals were first embalmed in Egypt, or since flowers and fruit were first pictured on Egyptian tombs. Four or five thousand years have not brought about any variations of the human races of Africa and Western Asia since Egyptian artists first brought out their distinctive features.

The time has been too short for variations to emerge. But if we go back to the ice age, we still find no appreciable change. The plants and animals of that remote time are about the same as those of the present time. "Few, or none," says Sir Archibald, "display any transitional gradations into new species." If so long a time has produced variations so slight, how immeasurably long, it is argued, must have been the time in which many successive races were evolved? But back of the period of life there was a period of rock formation where there was no life: and back of that period, extending to that time when the earth was a white-hot molten ball, closely resembling its parent the sun. The cooling of this ball, the work of the earlier seas, the development of many successive types of life—all this demands, it is argued, vast æons of time.

The physicists, however, protest. Lord Kelvin, for example, points out that from the high internal temperature of our globe, increasing inward as it does, and from the rate of loss of heat, a limit may be fixed to the planet's antiquity. Every lineament of the solar system, he avers, bears witness to a gradual dissipation of energy from some definite starting point. No very precise data are available for computing the interval since the commencement, but, in his opinion, the surface of the globe must have consolidated as much as 20,000,000 years ago. This is to be inferred from the rate of the increase of temperature inward. If it had consolidated as much as 400,000,000 years ago there would be no such increase of temperature inward. Consideration of the influence of tidal friction in retarding the earth's rotation and of the sun's rate of cooling have led to the further sweeping reductions of the time allowed by physicists to geologists. Prof. Tait asserts that less than millions of years have elapsed since the earth's crust was first consolidated.

This puts geologists into an unhappy plight. Sir Archibald concedes that "the demands of the early geologists for an unlimited series of ages were extravagant." He confesses also that "the interpretation given to the record of the rocks should be rigorously revised." But he will not yield all that Lord Kelvin and Prof. Tait demand. "There must be," he says "some flaw in the physical argumnts" He wants more time than the phyications. He wants than the physicists are willing to give, him in which to entrusts the globe, waste it, rebuild it again and again endow it with successive races of plants and animals and make it what we see it. Possibly the flaw is in his own argument. It is not impossible that the doctrine of uniformity has been overworked by the geologist. Things may—though he denies it—have been done faster in the first ages when formative forces worked under more genial conditions of temperature and moisture and along lines that were new.

LACROSSE.

EXECUTIVE MEETING.

A meeting of the executive of the Victoria Lacrosse club will be held tomorrow evening in S. Lowe's photograph gallery.

The Foreign Policy of the Radicals.

The Radical policy is to cut adrift from continental jealousies and quarrels; to make all respect us by respecting all; to sympathize with the oppressed in all parts of the world, but to reserve our energies for the task of bettering the lot of the suffering millions within our own territories; to have an army and navy sufficient for defense but not for aggression; to be ready, if unfortunately we have a dispute with any foreign power, to refer it to arbitration; and never to allow ourselves to be diverted from domestic reforms by endeavors to maintain that most shifty of shifty things—the European equilibrium, or to remedy wrongs abroad in order that privilege may pass unperceived at home. Our home is large enough in conscience. A British statesman has work enough to do within the limits of our empire, without arrogating to himself the mission of a providence outside of it. the fault of our people is that they care so little for foreign politics that they pay no attention to them. In this way they have often allowed their pilots to let the vessel of state drift into war. Henceforward we must keep a closer watch on the man at the wheel, and if he shows the slightest tendency to carry the vessel into dangerous waters, we must replace him. During the last two centuries we have had many wars. We are now paying interest on a huge debt which has been heaped up in order to defray the cost of this policy of war. In no single case were these wars the result of our being attacked. In every case we were either aggressors or we were fighting for matters that did not concern us. With the experience before us, and with the cost of our past follies still bound like a millstone around our necks, weighing on our shoulders there is little probability of our people, now that power is in their hands, allowing our statesmen to repeat the errors of the past.—Henry Labouchere, in North American Review.

Novel Boats for Irish Rivers.

A Dublin correspondent says it is proposed to build a novel class of stermers for special service in the navigation of the Barrow, Shannon and other principal Irish rivers, as will as on the canals and larger lakes of the country. According to a model which has been on exhibition in Dublin, the only portions of the new boat to be immerged in water are four long parallel pipes, nearly three feet in diameter, upon which the entire superstructure of the boat will rest. These are full of coal gas. The steamers will be worked by a screw, situated between the two central pipes, and driven by a steam engine, the fuel consisting of the gas stored in the pipes underneath. The proposed boats will be about 60 feet in length by 15 feet in width, and it is calculated that a speed of 11 miles an hous can be very easily attained.

The Young People's Union, of Emmanuel Baptist church, will present a programme before the Calvary Baptist young people this evening. The Calvary young people will reciprocate with refreshments.
